

English Newsletter, March 2023

WORLD
BOOK
DAY

2 MARCH 2023

World Book Day Wonders!

A love for books and reading could be seen across the school on World Book Day, as all of our children celebrated this event in their classes, with many of dressed as their favourite book character. Children in Reception were particularly excited to have enjoyed an interactive 'draw-along,' based on Dave the Pigeon and produced some wonderful art work, which you can see below.

Thank you to everybody who used their imagination to create a super collection of characters and books. Here are just some of the wonderful creations that our library champions captured for us!

Shout Out to Our Reading Volunteers

Did you know that each week, three wonderful people give up their time to read with our children on a 1:1 basis, build confidence and resilience, as well as developing relationships and helping them to build a love of reading.

I spoke to some of the children that they have been supporting and this is what they had to say:

Introducing: Mr Moore!

- Mr Moore lives in Mawsley village and has been supporting some of the children in Year 3 and 4. Alfie told me that he really enjoys reading with Mr Moore, who helps him with the tricky questions.
- Alfie describes Mr Moore as kind and intelligent and enjoys describing the books that they read together.
- If Mr Moore could be an animal, Alfie thinks that the animal that Mr Moore would be most like would be a Labrador!

Introducing: Mrs Marsden!

- Mrs Marsden has been hearing children read in Year 1 and 2. Cruz thinks that she is great at explaining new words!
- 'Really kind, and always has a big smile,' is how he described Mrs Marsden.
- The animal that Cruz thinks that the animal that Mrs Marsden would be most like is a cute little pug.

Introducing: Mrs Moore!

- Mrs Moore is in fact no relation to Mr Moore, but equally wonderful! She has been supporting children in Year 5 and 6. Emily would give Mrs Moore a gold star for helping her not only learn new vocabulary but to recall it in a special log!
- Emily describes her as somebody who is as happy as a sunflower and very kind.
- And if Mrs Moore could be an animal? An elegant peacock!

